CLA/HIS 230-001  THE HELLENISTIC WORLD & ROME TO THE DEATH OF CONSTANTINE  Holle (bholle2@uky.edu)
This course is an introductory survey of the Hellenistic Period from the death of Alexander the Great to the death of the last Ptolemy, Cleopatra. Special emphasis is placed upon the cultural changes this period witnessed. The history of Rome from its Republican origins to the decline of the Empire completes this course. An important feature of this part of the course is the study of the failure of Roman institutions to stop the decline of either the Republic or the Empire.

CLA 252-001  INTERMEDIATE GREEK, PART 2  Rabel (robert.rabel@uky.edu)
The course has as a pre-requisite the successful completion of CLA 251, or a similar experience. This course will serve as a bridge between learning basic grammar and syntax and starting to read actual ancient Greek texts. Students will deepen their knowledge of Greek to the point that those who successfully complete this course will be able to approach Greek texts independently. Prereq: CLA 251 or equivalent. UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE FOREIGN LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS.

CLA 302-001  LATIN LITERATURE II: Selected Poems by Catullus & Horace
J. Tunberg (jtnberg@yahoo.com)
In this course we will read love poetry, lyric verse and satric verse by Catullus and Horace. We will examine not only the literary themes that the two poets treat but also the genres and the meters that they use. Prereq: CLA 202 or equivalent.

MCL 335(H)-001  DEMOCRACY: ANCIENT & AMERICAN  TR 11:00-12:15
Francis (j.franccis@uky.edu)
What is democracy? What does freedom mean? Are all people really equal? These are some of the questions that will be considered in this wide-ranging exploration of what the ancient Greeks and Romans thought about the place of the individual in society, and what studying the inventors of democracy might tell us about our own democratic culture. We will be reading (in English) works of ancient literature, history, and political philosophy and use them to engage and refine our own views of these continuously important questions in our own time. Priority registration for Honors College students and MCL majors. Counts for Classics major/minor.
CLA 382-001  GREEK & ROMAN RELIGION  TR 2:00-3:15  Francis (jfrancis@uky.edu)
This course will examine religious practice and experience in the world of ancient Greece and Rome. Religion will be conceived of very broadly and include not only the ancient gods themselves and their cult and ritual, but also religious thought in ancient philosophy, ancient Christianity, and also the various connections between religion and Greek and Roman society. The course seeks not only to convey historical knowledge, but also to familiarize the student with scholarly approaches to the study of religion as a historical phenomenon of human behavior. COLLEGE HUMANITIES REQUIREMENTS.

CLA 391-041  CHRISTIANS IN THE ROMAN EMPIRE  W 6:00-8:30  Holle (bholl2@uky.edu)
An undergraduate seminar which discusses the changing status of Christians in the Roman Empire between 100 & 500 CE. An underlying theme of this course is: What is it to be a Christian? Students will read and discuss both primary and secondary sources and analyze the answer to this question changed during the Roman Empire. Topics discussed include: heresies, persecution, definitions of doctrine and practices, relationship to the Roman Empire, and more. COLLEGE HUMANITIES REQUIREMENTS.

CLA 521-001  ADVANCED LATIN COMPOSITION & READING  TR 9:30-10:45  Minkova (mmink2@uky.edu)
This course continues the study of Latin composition, concentrating on the compound sentence, and modes of expression in subordinate clauses. Students will become acquainted with masterpieces of Latin prose from all periods. This course, unlike CLA 501, will be conducted entirely in Latin, with the objective of further enhancing the students’ abilities to express themselves in correct Latin prose. Prereq: Consent of instructor.

CLA 551/651  GREEK POETRY & DRAMA: Oedipus
Rabel (robert.rabel@uky.edu)
We will read Sophocles’ Oedipus in (Greek) in conjunction with Seneca’s Oedipus in (Latin) and consider how the same story can be used in order to convey very different themes. We will also briefly consider Seneca’s use of the so-called soliloquy and its influence on Shakespeare’s history plays.

CLA 630-041  SEMINAR IN CLASSICAL LITERATURE & CULTURE: Priesthood & Celibacy in Ancient Christianity  W 6:30-9:00  Hunter (david.hunter@uky.edu)
The aim of this seminar is to examine in detail the emergence of a pair of divergent traditions in eastern and western Christianity. In the late antique and early medieval periods the eastern and western traditions of Christianity developed distinctive practices on the matter of clerical marriage, celibacy, and sexual continence. The eastern churches, for the most part, enforced celibacy for bishops, but allowed presbyters and deacons to marry prior to ordination and to remain sexually active after ordination. The western churches, by contrast, attempted to enforce permanent sexual continence on the three highest ranks of the clergy, but did not refrain from ordaining married men. Neither East nor West allowed marriage to clergy after ordination. Our aim in the seminar is to examine these diverse traditions and attempt to discern the reasons for these historical developments.

CLA 580  INDEPENDENT WORK IN CLASSICS  TBA
