

IMPORTANT FOR PRE-HEALTH STUDENTS (PRE-MEDICINE, PRE-DENTAL, PRE-PHARMACY, PRE-OPTOMETRY) AND PRE-VET STUDENTS

Since medical terminology, mostly derived directly from Latin, is essential for everything in the medical field, learning Latin is extremely valuable for those who intend to become doctors and other health professionals.

Studying Latin and Classics in general can boost the chances for a successful medical school application: “According to Association of American Medical Colleges, students who major or double-major in Classics have a better success rate getting into medical school than do students who concentrate solely in biology, microbiology, and other branches of science” (Princeton Review).

If you intend to apply to medical school, taking LAT 101 Elementary Latin, LAT 211 Accelerated Latin, or GRK 101 Elementary Greek may be beneficial to your medical school application.
